

Supplementary material for the Results of the First quarter of Fiscal 2008

August 1, 2008 NTN Corporation

This presentation and comments made in this conference or during the following Q&A session include forward-looking statements about management expectations for future performance and future business strategies. These statements represent the best judgment of the management of the company based on the information currently available. However, there can be no assurance that future results will meet any expectation, estimate or projection conveyed by these statements or comments. Actual results may differ materially from management projections depending on various factors such as changes in product demand, exchange rates and interest rates.

Consolidated Financial Results

Results of the 1st Quarter Ended June 30, 2008

- SNR joined NTN as a consolidated subsidiary. Net sales for the period increased 25% from a year earlier to 162.1 billion yen.
- ♦ Increased consciousness of global environmental protection and resource development stimulated vigorous worldwide demand and solid performance for general industrial machinery applications large bearings for construction machinery, wind power generation and agricultural machinery. Bearings for office machinery bearings in China and hydrodynamic BEAPHITE units in other areas of Asia were also solid.
- In automotive applications, sales for the large car sector dropped, impacted by drastic production cuts, but increased for small cars in North America. Japan showed solidness in exports. China and other areas of Asia also enjoyed good performance.
- Operating income decreased 11% from a year earlier to 10.8 billion yen, impacted by higher steel price and unfavorable foreign exchange rates

Forecast for the 2nd Quarter ending September 30, 2008

- In general industry machinery applications, robust performance is expected to continue for large bearings owing to its active demand.
- In automotive applications, production cut will continue to affect performance in North America, but solid performance is expected in China and other areas of Asia
- Budgeted earnings will be achieved by passing the increased cost of steel to customers.
